
Cover of Handbook of Atlantic City, New Jersey, 1894 by Alfred M. He
From the Heston Collection of the Atlantic City Free Public Library Atlantic City's unique cultural, econo
Alfred M. Heston

The types of resources available are:

- Archival Collections: unique groups of personal and business papers, scrapbooks, photographs, pi
- Local History Files: clippings files maintained by the Reference Department include newspaper art
History Subject Files

- Book Collection: books related to Atlantic City, including fictional stories set in Atlantic City, biographies of persons with ties to Atlantic City, and historical materials about Atlantic City. This collection includes the Atlantic City Directories and the Atlantic City High School yearbooks, The Herald.
Many of the items in the Heston Book Collection may be found in the Library Catalog, and the City Directories are also available on microfilm.

- Map and Atlas Collection: maps of Atlantic City and the surrounding areas, dating from 1860 to the present. Some maps, such as the Sanborn Insurance Maps, include block-by-block detail. Some are available on microfilm.

For more information on resources in the Alfred M. Heston Collection, or for information on how to gain access to the resources, please visit the webpages in our menu (located on the left), or contact Heston Collection staff.